1.1 Purpose and scope. This Supplement provides instructions for the selection, designation, development, and restriction, suspension or termination of designation of a "Contracting Officer," as specified in the provisions of 48 CFR 1.603, 48 CFR 1401.603, and Interior Acquisition Policy Release (DIAPR) 89-43. (See 19 BIAM Chapter 1 for basic policy.)

1.2 Background. FAR 1.603 and Department of the Interior Acquisition Regulation (DIAR) 1401.603 require that procedures be established and evaluated for the selection, designation, development, and restriction or termination of designation of "Contracting Officers." These procedures prescribe that the designation of "Contracting Officers" be made to individual persons, rather than to organizational or administrative titles/positions.

1.3 Provisions of Supplement.

A. Warrants are issued only to those full-time employees who meet and maintain Warrant requirements. Contracting Officers are appointed as such only in those instances where a legitimate organizational need exists and can be demonstrated for Warranted personnel. Factors to be considered by line officials in making these determinations include: the organizational function and structure; the scope and complexity of acquisition work; and, dollar value and volume of award actions.

B. Several of the actions prescribed in this Supplement (e.g., selection, designation, development, and restriction or termination of designation) may have an impact on personnel management practices, viz. position classification and management, employee development, selection guidelines, adverse actions, grievances, and performance appraisals. Therefore, the successful implementation of the Contracting Officer's Warrant System (COWS) requires a cooperative working relationship among Bureau managers and supervisors, Contracting Officers/Specialists, personnel officers/specialists, and line officials.

1.4 Applicability.

A. The minimum professional/technical standards required for the selection, designation, development, and restriction or termination of designation of a Bureau Contracting Officer are contained in Illustrations 1 and 2 of this Supplement. These standards are to be considered the first phase of minimum professional requirements for effectively and efficiently performing the Contracting Officer function. In certain instances, the standards or requirements herein may exceed those found in DIAR 1401.603 and DIAPR 89-43. Where a difference exists, the Supplement requirements will serve as the criteria for Bureau employees.

19 BIAM Supp. 1, Release 3, 10/13/92
B. Bureau line officials are to exercise primary responsibility for the implementation and maintenance of the Contracting Officer’s Warrant System at all Bureau contracting activities under their respective jurisdictions. Each Area/Central Office contracting activity/location shall designate an employee as Warrant System Coordinator who serves as the local coordinator and as liaison with the Division of Contracting and Grants Administration (Central Office) counterparts. Office of Indian Education Programs (OIEP) Line officials shall forward Warrant applications to the designated headquarters Warrant Coordinator who serves as the coordinator and liaison with the Division of Contracting and Grants Administration (Central Office).

C. References herein to professional/technical requirements are not to be construed as job selection or qualifications standards for employment in the authorization field and are not to be used as such without appropriate authorization from the U.S. Office of Personnel Management. The requirements set forth in this Supplement are to be met before a Bureau employee is certified to exercise the authority and responsibilities of a Contracting Officer, regardless of the employee’s position and grade level. Only when an employee is Warranted (certified) may that employee act as a Contracting Officer. Receiving a certificate (Warrant) means the same as being designated a Bureau Contracting Officer.

D. The following types of transactions are exempt from all provisions of this Warrant System: awards exempted by law; calls against Blanket Purchase Agreements (BPA); imprest funds purchases; purchases made using the U.S. Government Bank Card pursuant to an inter-agency agreement with the U.S. Department of Commerce; FEDSTRIPS (the Contracting Officer is to adhere to the internal control procedures required by FAR 13.2 and 13.4); Part A & Part B grants assistance awards to school organizations by Indian Education Personnel under Pub. L. 100-297; and, approval of individual training forms (SF-182) for non-acquisition personnel.

E. The following types of transactions are to be included under the provisions of the Warrant System: Contracts/Purchase Orders (pursuant to FAR); Basic Ordering Agreements (BOA); SF-44’s [Purchase-Order-Invoice-Voucher (FAR 13.505-3)]; Federal grants assistance agreements; inter-agency agreements between Federal agencies (see Supplement 10); and procurement of air, bus, or water charter services under 41 CFR 101-41.204-4.

F. All Contracting Officers are to comply with Public Law 100-679 (Section 6), the existing regulations in 43 CFR 20.735-15, and the instructions in Supplement 9. Level III and IV Warrant holders must file a current DI-212 form in accordance with the procedures in 43 CFR 20.735-22.
G. Supervisory Contract Specialists may consider and nominate Contract Specialists for either Level III or Level IV Warrants to award Public Law 93-638 actions only, excluding FAR controlled construction awards. These nominees must meet all training, performance, and experience requirements. (See Section 3.2C below).

C. With the increasing volume of Indian self-determination actions awarded to tribal organizations under the authority of Pub. L. 93-638 (as amended by Pub. L. 100-472, et. seq.), line officials and their Supervisory Contract Specialists may wish to nominate some acquisition specialists for Level III or IV Warrant authority that is restricted to Pub. L. 93-638 actions not governed by the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR).

(4) The Contracting Officer's duties are to be reflected in the individual's performance appraisal, particularly those elements relating to acquisition planning and execution, compliance with Federal acquisition laws and regulations, and with Bureau policies.

B. The Bureau procedure to ensure that certificates are maintained in accordance with the requirements of paragraph 3.3A above is, as follows:

(1) Bureau employees who are nominated for Warrant System designations
submit an Individual Development Plan (IDP) to their immediate supervisor and Warrant System Coordinator with their application for their Warrants. The IDP shall list specific information for the ensuing four-year training schedule, e.g., subject title/course to be pursued; number of course hours; and, appropriate dates and training provider (if known).

(2) The required maintenance training source(s) shall be acquisition-related and scheduled by the Warrant holder with the approval of the immediate supervisor and in conjunction with the senior 1102 Specialist and the Warrant System Coordinator. Maintenance courses should be selected to meet the career development needs of the employee, the requirements of the Bureau work environment, and the recommendation of the supervisor. Previously-completed courses should not be scheduled nor approved for employee training. Rather, courses that enhance the employee's acquisition and assistance agreement knowledge, skills, and abilities should be given careful consideration (see Illustration 2).

(3) Supervisory Contract Specialists and the Warrant System Coordinators are to ensure that certificates are maintained current and the Division of Contracting and Grants Administration (Central Office) is to be notified for Warrant renewal by the local Warrant System Coordinator by submission of: Contracting Officers Warrant Application Form; the copy of the training course certificate issued to the enrollee or the copy of the SF-182 that certifies training completion; and official, signed summary page of the most recent performance appraisal rating; a signed copy of the OF-333, Procurement Integrity certification; and, an approved IDP of the planned four-year training schedule. A new Warrant certificate will then be issued to the Bureau employee that is valid for the succeeding four year period. [Level I (Exception) Warrants are limited to 180 consecutive calendar days in a twelve-month period]. (See Illustration 3).

2.4 Restriction, Suspension or Termination of Designation of Contracting Officers.

A. The Contracting Officer's certificate may be restricted, suspended or terminated only by the Deputy Commissioner of Indian Affairs based on a written recommendation from the Area Director, or Division of Contracting and Grants Administration, and only for the following reasons:

C. Restrictions or termination of the designation may cause personnel actions which require certain procedures. The appropriate Bureau Personnel Officer should be consulted if designation restriction or termination actions are being considered and before a written recommendation is submitted to the Division of Contracting and Grants Administration (Central Office).

D. The Chief, Division of Contracting and Grants Administration (Central Office) has the authority under DIAR 1402.1 and this Supplement to terminate appointments where such terminations are for strictly administrative reasons, e.g., transfer of a Warranted individual to another Federal agency, or retirement/resignation of the individual. This delegation of termination authority is strictly limited to such cited instances. It is not permitted for any restriction or termination that may lead to a grievance or similar personnel action.

E. The Warrant System Coordinator at each Area Office is to notify the Division of Contracting and Grants Administration (Central Office) in writing when a Warranted employee is recommended to no longer exercise certification authority due to retirement, transfer, reassignment, etc.

2.5 Responsibilities of Supervisory Contract Specialist. The Supervisory Contract Specialist (the senior 1102 Specialist) in charge of the acquisition activity is responsible for the following requirements under the Warrant System:

PERTINENT KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES OF CONTRACTING OFFICERS

The acquisition profession demands high standards of performance (knowledge and skills) as well as ethical behavior. One of the crucial characteristics of the profession is the existence of a systematic body of knowledge to guide and focus requirements for technical knowledge and competence. This systematic body of knowledge is characteristically multi-disciplinary; it is systematically and objectively determined in its ability to give the professional greater control in the professional environment; and, the limits of the body of knowledge are determined by the professional's intellectual ability to determine what knowledge is "worthwhile."

Contract specialists, need to have a keen awareness, knowledge and the skill requirements in order to perform competently in this profession. This body of knowledge serves as the foundation of the acquisition profession. Efforts are focused on education, training, certification and the development of professional standards. Further, this body of knowledge is necessary for the Contract Specialist because it identifies the functions of the profession and how they relate to functions established in other acquisition-related areas. Basically, professional proficiency in acquisition management requires broad knowledge and a range of skills in the areas of:

A. Acquisition and contracting policy and procedures.
B. Legal and regulatory aspects of procurement and contracting.
C. Managerial planning, decision making, communication, and control.
D. The economics of materials and operations management.
E. Cost and price analysis and negotiation techniques.
F. Management information systems, and data and information analysis.

Contract Specialists need to broaden and deepen their understanding of this professional body of knowledge in their profession.

CRITERIA FOR EVALUATION OF TRAINING COURSES

These training-course criteria have been developed to aid the individual, the supervisor, the Warrant System Coordinator, and the Bureau training officer in establishing an Individual Development Plan (IDP) which will comply with the appropriate level of the Contracting Officer requirements and standards.

These criteria will be used to determine the acceptability of a training course when a recommendation for a Warrant certificate is submitted. The training hours required for certification are to be completed on the basis of actual classroom hours. For example, a five-day OPM or GSA course is to be counted as forty hours, and a three-hour college credit course (semester or quarter) shall be counted as forty-hours.

GENERAL

Training must be directly related to the general body of knowledge of acquisition and grants assistance management; and, it must include most of the described topics within the Core Subject areas as listed in this Supplement for each of the different levels. A course in which several acquisition subject areas are addressed is acceptable, provided the overall specific number of hours in Core Subjects are met for the applicable level. Equivalency tests are not considered acceptable substitutes for acquisition training unless they have prior approval from the Department and the Division of Contracting and Grants Administration (Central Office). Anyone desiring to take a course listed for a higher Warrant Level is encouraged to do so, particularly in maintaining the Warrant. Correspondence courses, if approved by the Department and the Bureau, are acceptable for credit under the Warrant System.

Warrant System Coordinators should review all Individual Development Plans (IDP’s) periodically to ensure that employee and Bureau needs are being addressed adequately. Cost-benefit analysis should indicate the "best" type and mix of training courses (on-site v. off-site, programmed instruction, correspondence, etc.). Maintenance course requirements should be carefully reviewed so that course duplication does not occur for an employee.
