loose county, like a prudent builder we ' fast down first and counted the cost ' —considered the proposition from every angle and took into consideration all the pros and cons involved, and subsequent events have neither served to dis- appoint or unduly elate us: We’ve found things just about as we expected. There have not been many departures, either good or bad, from the path as we expected to find it. We’ve made, living, lots of friends; a few of the right sort, have enjoyed life and fairly good health for the greater part of the twenty-four years, and have few regrets for the way we’ve lived or things we’ve done; and as we start on our twenty-fifth year we can promise you no change of policy or immediate improvement in The Herald. Maybe, if our critics find anything, they will look to the point where we may be financially able to make the Herald bigger and better.

Of one thing our friends may be assured: The so-called ‘depression’ doesn’t have us hollered yet, our health is improving and we are expecting to catch a lot of fish as soon as the dogwood primary election is over and we can find time to go fishing.

Last week we neglected to mention the fact that Mr. T. M. King is a candidate for member of the school board, and Mr. King is a successful businessman man of DeFuniak Springs and if elected will be a splendid member of the board.

Chief Walks-in-his Sleep,” (Harold McCaskill,) a gallant Comanche chief, with many scalps adorning his Powder-horn, volunteered to help the “Eagles and” as he scored a “knock-out” or a “strike” or something, on his first bowl, hope for a while ran high that the “Eagles” might win. Chief Red Cloud, (Tom Murray,) another substitute and a war-like brave from the wild and woolly west, did valiant service, and where the battle was wearing hottest—his war plume could be seen floating over the well-fought field. “Forked Lightning,” (Fred Few,) a wiry young Arapaho braving, again and again sent the ball whizzing down the alley for a strike or a spare. Big Chief “Rolling Thunder,” (Mallock Cawthon,) and “Rain-in-the-face,” (Donnie Wester,) put up a gallant fight, but the Jennings team was too much for them.

have ever heard a noise like that at Bruce, you know what it means. One of the best spreads I ever saw was before us, and after that congregation finished, not half was consumed. Those Bruce people know just how to capsule hard times and fill you with the essence of prosperity. If you ever have an opportunity to get to Bruce on one of these public days roll yourself and you will come away saying, “The half has never been told.” God has done a great deal for those people down there and we have many things to appreciate.

Revival Continues Third Week

The County-Wide Revival Conducted by Evangelist Clifford Lewis and choir director J. Dar- bert Cotta is in its third week and Interest is growing daily. The young people’s services are being conducted at 6:30 in the Presbyterian Church, and the regular service is held in the Methodist Church at 8:30 a.m. The meeting will close next Sunday morning, while the Evangelist will speak on the subject, “Heaven, and will we know it loved ones there?” This service will be held in the Chautauqua Auditorium.

The 2:30 Sunday afternoon service will be in the Methodist Church and the subject will be, “The End of the World,” or “The Second Coming of Jesus Christ.”

At each of these services the great chorus will render a special number and Mr. Cotta will sing a solo solo.

Walton Braves vs. Florala

The Walton Braves open their Flk. & Ala., High School League Basketball Schedule next Tuesday afternoon at Harbison Field when they meet the Florala team in what promises to be a close game. The locals have an experienced team this season and it remains to be seen how they will compare to other teams in the League since no games have been played to date. The admission to games is 25 cts. for adults and 15 cts. for school pupils. It is hoped a large attendance will root for the Braves in their first game.

other teams, they read; the names of the fierce warriors, with a quack of fear.

Defuniak is developing some good bowlers, and last week a team from here went over to Talahassee and trounced the Elks.

Tuesday night a team came up from Valparaiso and got what was coming to it.

We don't know any more about bowling than we know about golf or auction bridges, but we frequently sneak into the bowling alley while we are waiting for the mail to be distributed at night and eat two or three "hot dogs" and watch the youngsters bowl. It seems to us that bowling is a good, clean, skillful sport and we have been impressed with the sportsman-like and gentlemanly bearing of the young fellows who bowl. We have never heard a profane or obscene word at the bowling alley, and that is more than we could say of some other places, including the river.

Several business firms are sponsoring teams, and ours is the youngest, or rather the newest. The W. K. Jennings Company has a team, CHad Barber Shop has another, and so has the Service Drug Co. and Munroe Prescott.

Last night "The War Eagles" donned their war paint and feathers and went up against the Jennings team—one of the best and hardest to beat in the whole blooming outsize. Of course: the War Eagles were beaten, as was to have been expected under the circumstances, since several members of our team were absent and several substitutes had to be drafted to make up a team. Big in-the-face, (Connie Weston), put up a gallant fight, but the Jennings team was too much for them.

That's all right, Eagles. We'll get 'em yet. Eagles are never beaten. If you remember, after the battle of Bull Run, or Mattapass, the American Eagle flew back to Washington with his head badly clawed and most of his tail feathers jerked out. But he didn't stay licked. We've had our battle of "Manassas" with that Jennings aggregation, and while they seemed medull, and did it in a clean and sportsman-like manner, we'll get 'em yet—if they'll just stay with us.

Tom Bailey, Ross Liuhington house, the "Coach" of Walton High, and Medina's Jennings, are bowlers who are not to be sneezed at, but sooner or later we'll coop up with them.

Just keep your eyes on our "War Eagles."

Our Birthday

"The Herald, under its present management, was twenty-four years old yesterday—the 23rd. This lacks only one year of being a quarter of a century, and as we look back over the past twenty-four years, and kindle take stock and review our dark and devious past, we see: either arrogant, disappointed, penitent or remorseful. Like "the depression" and the cattle tick we are just "here," and that's about all.

Twenty-four years ago, when we took charge of this fearless and aggressive publication and commenced to shed the dazzling radiance of our intellectually over the United States and parts of Oka
