CLASSIFICATION
PERSONAL AND REAL

43 BIAM SUPPLEMENT 1, RELEASE

MARCH 26 1991

PROPERTY AND SUPPLY
Property Management

- 1.0 Property Classification. The practice of using standard nomenclature and uniform classification of property is a key to good property management. This should be clearly emphasized, particularly to personnel directly concerned with property management such as inventorying enumerators, property and supply clerks, accountants, ect. It is also important that program personnel and others have a good knowledge of what items are classified as major equipment. The records to be maintained on all property transactions from acquisition to disposition should properly describe each item of equipment by its recognized nomenclature.
- 1.1 Expendable Property. Included all commodities which are ordinarily consumed or expended within one year after they are placed into use, or which are converted in the process of construction or manufacture, or which are used to form a minor part of equipment or fixed property. Therefore, expendable property shall be classified as "materials and supplies." Materials and supplies are to be accounted for until issued, consumed or used as appropriate. It is the responsibility of the using employee or activity to economize and properly utilize such expendable property, and when it is discovered that more is on hand than is actually needed the excess is to be returned to the storehouse for a "Return Material Credit" slip (Form 5-4320), or otherwise made available to other activities. Such items are to be charged to expense accounts at the time of issue from a supply point or at the time of receipt by the requisitioning activity.
- 1.2 Nonexpendable Property. Includes property which has continuing use as a self-contained unit; is not consumed in use; does not ordinarily become a fixture or lose its identity, nor form a component of equipment, machine, plant, etc., a term referring to items not expended on issue. For purpose of accountability, nonexpendable property is comprised of two classes of property, Personal and Real (fixed).
- 1.3 Personal Property. Personal property includes property of any kind or any interest therein, except real property and records of the Federal Government. Specifically, personal property includes all equipment, materials, and supplies, unless or until incorporated in or permanently affixed to real property.

PROPERTY AND SUPPLY
Property Management

(a) Capitalized. As used herein "capitalized" means taking into account specified fixed or moveable assets as distinguished from expendable materials and supplies which are charged off as issued. Generally items are capitalized by having a cost of $300 or more each except for certain sensitive items.

1.4 Real (Fixed) Property. Includes (1) Any interest in land (except the Public Domain and lands reserved or dedicated for national forest or national park purposes including lands withdrawn or reserved from public domain which the Administrator of General Services Administration, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Interior, determines are suitable for return to the public domain because such lands not substantially changed in character by improvements) owned by the United States, including any wholly owned Government corporation, and any fixtures, appurtenances, and improvements of any kind located thereon; and (2) Any fixtures, structures, and other improvements owned by the United States (including such as may be located on the Public Domain or lands reserved or dedicated for national forest or national park purposes, or located on land that is not owned by the United States), which are to be disposed of for offsite use, excluding, however, standing timber and crops offered for disposal separately from the land on which located.

(a) Related Personal Property. Includes any personal property (1) which is located on, and is an integral part of real property, or essential for the productive capacity thereof, or (2) determined by the Administrator of GSA to be otherwise related to real property.

PROPERTY AND SUPPLY
Property Management

1.5 Classification of Equipment. The Property Management Control System throughout the Bureau requires that major equipment items will be capitalized and recorded on the punch card source document, Form 5-4310, and 5-4325 Personal Property Accountability Transaction.

(a) Minor/Major Equipment List. (Supplement 1). This list has been combined to include minor and major items to make it easier to classify equipment. The major items have been adopted by the Bureau as the Major Equipment List and must be capitalized and accounted for in the appropriate General Ledger Account for equipment and must carry Bureau identification. Minor nonexpendable property items must also be carried on inventory lists at area and/or agency levels and their issue, use and return controlled by cognizant property personnel. Since price changes are continually increasing in all categories, it is necessary to place certain minor equipment items on the same level as major equipment when the cost reaches the $300 figure.

Certain items of property, nonexpendable by definition have arbitrarily been classified as expendable because of a high rate of breakage in service, a normally short service life, or an insignificant value and therefore are not included on this list. If a particular item of minor equipment is of such nature and value that it is subject to be lost, strayed or stolen, it should be marked "USBIA" on a conspicuous part of the item with steel dies, stencils, electric vibrator, electric pencil, branding iron or any other method which may be found most adaptable or permanent for the various types of property involved. Changes in the list will be made as required by the Central Office with the issuance of manual changes consisting of substitute pages or pen and ink changes.

Items of equipment such as water heaters, dish washers, steam tables, work benches shop tables, water coolers, garbage disposals, etc., which become a permanent part of a room, building, plant and/or system will not be picked up as major equipment. However, a listing along with the value of such items should be maintained along with the records for the structures or facilities in which they are located.

PROPERTY AND SUPPLY
Property Management

- (1) Tools. For shops and projects where a miscellany of noncapitalized tools or other items of relatively low value are necessary in quantities making the Government investment significant, a noncapitalized controlled inventory will be established and movements accounted for on a hard receipt issue and return system.
- Periodically, at the end of a school term, a season, or on project completion, an inventory verification should be made with shortages charged off in effect to expense only to the extent that replacements are purchased since original acquisitions are expended at time of purchase. Any shortages determined to be an employee's liability would be covered by reimbursement from the employee at replacement cost, with proceeds used to replace items if necessary, and if not, proceeds to be deposited to miscellaneous receipts.
- (2) Pooling of Equipment. In order to obtain maximum use of certain "low-use" equipment, consideration shall be given to the establishment of an equipment pool where the equipment may be loaned out on a temporary basis and to be returned as soon as possible for use by other branches or classrooms, etc.
- (b) Real (Fixed) Property. (Part II) This series is available for use in coding buildings and other structures and facilities. Real property will be capitalized and recorded on the punch card source document, Form 5-1529, Real Property Accountability Transaction. Changes in the list of buildings and other structures and facilities will be made by the Central Office as required, by the issuance of manual changes consisting of substitute pages or pen and ink changes.
- (c) Request for New Personal and Real Property Nomenclature and Code Numbers. When personal and real property are received which are not included in the Property Classification List, a request for new nomenclature and property classification code number should be submitted via letter, wire or FTS to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, ASC, Branch of Fedetrip & Property Inventory Services, P.O. Box 2088, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87103.

An ADP Printout Nomenclature, Minor and Major Code Number will be assigned by the Central Office. Then, at a later date pen and ink changes or substitute pages to the Classification list will be issued.

This revision of Supplement No. 1 includes the printing of only one side of a page to facilitate issuing substitute pages when changes are necessary.
