III. Status of Labor Force Report

American Indian Population and Labor Force Report (AIPLFR) Status

Annual Meeting of Federal Partners and Tribal 477 Workgroup Under
Indian Employment, Training and Related Services Act of 2017

September 12, 2022

History of AIPLFRs

- Between 1982 and 2013, Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) produced 13 reports on the individuals eligible for services under Interior (i.e., federally recognized tribes) who lived on or near tribal lands
- In 2017, authority for reports was transferred to DOL under law (PL 115-93). The law also required consultation with tribes, Census and the Department of the Interior.
  - ▶ Published an Issues Paper: <https://wdr.doleta.gov/research/details.cfm?q=&id=2697>
- In February 2022, responsibility transferred from the Employment and Training Administration (ETA) to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS)

Requirements for AIPLFRs

- Reports must provide population and labor force data at multiple levels:
  1. National
  2. State
  3. BIA service area
  4. Tribal Level

Requirements for AIPLFRs

- As per the law, the reports must present information in regard to:
  1. Total service population
  2. Service population under age 16 and over age 64
  3. Population available for work (including those not considered to be actively seeking work)
  4. Employed population, including those with annual earnings below poverty line
  5. Number employed in private and public sector positions

Challenges to Resolve re: Future AIPLFRs

- Definitional issues - who is to be counted in the “service population,” at the tribal level, i.e., those living on or near tribal areas?
- Population and Labor Force Data Elements, i.e., conform strictly to the 2017 law, or be aligned with BLS terms and definitions?
- Scope: include other data elements such as educational attainment, health, disability and poverty status?
- Data Quality/Data Sources: level of accuracy/precision needed, privacy/data security -- consistent with federal standards?
- Content and Format: include analyses or just data tables? present in an interactive database?

Key Considerations for Future AIPLFRs

- Most critical issue: the data source(s) for the tribal level (ACS, program or membership data, or a new data collection)
- Need to recognize concerns raised by tribes and respect for tribal sovereignty, as per comments at the tribal consultations
- At the same time, future reports must be consistent with federal standards on data, scientific methods, and privacy as found in law and OMB guidance
- Expanding data elements, coverage, and analysis in future reports might generate interest and more use of future AIPLFRs by tribes and other audiences

Recent BLS Activities

- Continue to engage with DOL-ETA on the transfer of responsibilities
- Met with Census staff (Population Estimates Program and American Community Survey) concerning data availability
- Participated in a workshop at the National Indian and Native American Employment and Training Conference
  - ▶ ETA and BLS presented together on the AIPLFR
- Participating in the inter-agency Indian Country Data Working Group
- Plan to fill a vacancy to research plans for the AIPLFR
